ABSTRACT

A system for accessing a resource locator (RL) associated with a resource wherein a RL search string is used to search a list of valid RLs to identify valid RLs similar to a predetermined specified RL. A list of valid RLs meeting criteria specified by the search string is generated and displayed for user review or selection.